S-114

Title: Create and implement mechanisms that allow permitting agencies to apply lessons learned from past projects to future projects to minimize impacts to resources and improve success of mitigation activities.

Objective: The intended outcome of this action is to provide an application of the lessons learned to provide multiple environmental benefits including but not limited to, better resource protection and minimization, maintaining the function of natural resources and increasing the ecological functions provided by mitigation activities.

Background: This recommended management action is being put forth due to the variations in specific conditions, timing, contractors, etc. By applying lessons learned that are available to permit reviewers, more can be done to reduce impacts to resources and optimize the performance of mitigation.
